Serving Couples as MarriageTeam Coaches

Become MarriageTeam Certified Coaches during 24 hours of training over two weekends. Learn our 10 relationship skills and how to teach them. Master the basics of coaching and then gain confidence during multiple practice coaching sessions.

What Coaches Say About MarriageTeam Training

"This training provided the best set of tools for helping marriages - even better than courses in seminary."

"I have been leading two well-respected marriage training courses for 10 years. This coaching dynamic is tremendously more effective for implementing the skills."

"This training is very practical, organized extremely well, and presented systematically. The process is very simple and coaching can be used for all relationships."

Coach Training is for Christian couples who want to work with other couples for an average of 10-12 weeks to help them communicate their needs more effectively, understand one another better, and guide them in developing new approaches for addressing anger, conflict and bitterness. Coaching is a life-changing experience that can greatly enrich good marriages and completely transform those that are struggling. We request that coaches work with at least one couple per year; however, many choose to work with multiple couples each year. Session scheduling is flexible.

BLESSINGS OF A MARRIAGE COACH MINISTRY:

- Provides a volunteer ministry you do as a couple
- See how the Lord works through you to save marriages & transform lives
- Strengthens your own marriage as you help others
- Know you are making a difference for generations to come

What COACHES Say About MarriageTeam Coaching

When we first started, our couple was living apart; they were angry and not hopeful for their future. They have made a complete turnaround!

It's been really awesome to see lights come on as our couple figures out how to replace their old ways of thinking and behaving in their relationship.

We have been MarriageTeam Coaches for 8 years and have helped 15 couples transform their marriage. It has been an incredibly rewarding experience and we are fully committed to continuing to coach as long as we're able to.

What COUPLES Say About MarriageTeam Coaching

This was more enlightening than I had expected! Coaching was solutions focused. I was surprised our coaches didn't try to fix our issues for us. They taught us how to communicate so we could fix them ourselves.

Our coaching combined learning, practicing, encouragement and accountability – a more powerful combination than counseling, books or seminars.

We had been considering divorce, but not anymore! Our children are grown with their own families and see the difference in our relationship.
